DESCRIPTION:

Returns consist of notarized affidavits attesting to the validity of the accompanying schedules; property schedules detailing personal and, after 1919, real property; and by 1940, recapitulations summarizing the property schedules for each county or taxing district in which the company operated. Related correspondence or Tax Commission calculations are often stapled to the returns. From 1919 through 1937, net proceeds schedules for metalliferous mines showing gross yield minus certain deductions are part of this series. Profit and loss statements or ad valorem work sheets are present for most non-metalliferous extraction companies from the 1970s. The returns were submitted by natural resource extraction companies as the basis of assessment and apportionment of taxes by the Tax Commission. Natural resources assessed include metal mines (e.g. gold, silver, lead) and non-metal mines (e.g. coal, oil, gas, salt, etc.)

TITLE: Occupation tax and net proceeds returns

DATES: 1938-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological by date.

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 1.00 cubic foot.

DESCRIPTION:

Occupation tax returns and net proceeds returns submitted by metalliferous mining companies (1938-), and oil and gas companies (1956-) to the Tax Commission as the basis for assessment of taxes. Both types of returns identify the mine or well owner and mines or wells involved. The occupation tax is based on the gross value of production. Net proceeds taxes are based on the value of mineral deposits, determined by calculating sales less business deductions over one or more years. The necessary information on production and sales and calculations are part of the respective returns.

The 1980 and 1984 occupation tax statements for both oil and gas and mines are missing. Starting in 1985 the individual volumes are labeled "Statements of Net Proceeds & 609 Variations."
