These are investigation records to determine the course of action to be taken and the foundation of the prosecution that may follow. Violations may lead to hearings, criminal investigation in conjunction with the Attorney General's office, or civil litigation. These are usually fraud cases related to stocks and bonds. Not every case can be grandfathered in to a new violation, but repeat offenders have occurred after a prison sentence has been served. There are a lot of repeat offenders and the background investigation to those violations need to be kept for the life of the violator. There has been a case of a violation at the age of 20 and that case
