1

TITLE: Cemetery interment records

DATES: 1851-

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical and chronological.

DESCRIPTION:

This series contain several volumes used to record burials in the Springville City and Evergreen Cemeteries. The earliest book was begun in 1879 and records burials as early as 1851. Burials were listed alphabetically by family name in one section and listed chronologically in another section. The book also includes an early cemetery map, information about plot ownership, and "promiscuous" information on the burial of strangers and unknown individuals.

The second volume is arranged in alphabetical sections and repeats information from the earlier volume, with additional burials listed through 1947. The third volume is in reverse chronological order and overlaps with earlier and later volumes.

The fourth and fifth books ostensibly cover the City and Evergreen Cemeteries, respectively, but there is some cross-over in the two books. They are arranged chronologically and overlap earlier and later volumes. The most recent book picks up from the two preceding volumes and contains information on burials in both cemeteries, listed chronologically. The burial records in this series typically include such information as the name of the deceased, date and place of birth, date and place of death, cause of death, names of parents, last place of residence, burial date, and location of grave.

TITLE: General plans

DATES: 2011-

ARRANGEMENT: none

DESCRIPTION:

These are comprehensive plans for municipal development adopted by the city commission. "Each municipality shall prepare and adopt a comprehensive, long-range general plan for present and future needs of the municipality; and growth and development of all or any part of the land within the municipality" (Utah Code 10-9a-401(1) (2005)). "The planning commission shall make and recommend to the [city commission] a proposed general plan for the area within the municipality" (Utah Code 10-9a-403(1)(b) (2012)). The plans serve as a guide for decision-making on rezoning and other planning proposals and as the goals and policies of municipalities attempting to guide land use in local jurisdictions. The plans include "planning commission's recommendations for the development of the territory covered by the plan, and may include, among other things: (a) a land use element; (b) a transportation and circulation element; (c) an environmental element; (d) a public service and facilities element; (e) a rehabilitation, redevelopment, and conservation element; (f) an economic element; (g) recommendations for implementing the plan, including the use of zoning ordinances, subdivision ordinances, capital improvement plans, and other appropriate actions; and any other elements that the municipality c a rehabilitation, redevelopment, and conservation element; (f) an economic element; (g) recommendations for implementing the plan, including the use of zoning ordinances, subdivision ordinances, capital improvement plans, and other appropriate actions; and any other elements that the municipality considers appropriate" (Utah Code 10-91-403 (3) (2012)). The plan may also include maps, plats, and charts.
