3

TITLE: Child and family Services family case records

DATES: 1996-

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by client surname.

DESCRIPTION:

These files document complete case histories of the Division of Child and Family Services (DCFS) provided to families. These services include children at risk (CAR), clinical casework counseling (CCS), counseling individual services (CIS), child protective services (CPS), custody evaluations, family preservation (PFP), family reunification (PFR), in-home services (PSC and PSS), interstate compact services (ICPC), out of home care (SCF), courtesy supervision (SCS), and youth services (PYS). These programs are funded by DCFS and/or local discretionary funds. These files will enable the division to monitor the types of services that have been provided to a family and work more effectively in providing new services when required. Information includes family histories, names, birth certificates, social security cards, court documents, guardianship orders, tribal membership certification, activity log logs, case plans, video recordings of parent visits with their children, psychological progress notes, personal and family counseling reports, psychological and psychiatric information, medical and dental reports, employment histories, living conditions, marital status, salary information, collateral agency data, child abuse and neglect reports, police reports, family studies, health and education records and fees, medicaid information, payment records, release forms, contracts, and reference letters. After 2009, domestic violence records are included in family case files. Previously they were kept in a separate series #18404.

3

TITLE: Child Protective Services investigation audio and video records

DATES: 1996-

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by client surname

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 4.70 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These audio and video tapes are created by contracted providers to document child abuse evaluations for use in litigation and court proceedings. They are also used in the procedure of diagnosing and suggesting treatment for those victims of sexual and other forms of abuse. They contain interviews with children eighteen and under who are alleged victims of abuse. These are related to the Child Protective Services investigation case files (see record series 18742). UCA 62A-4-509 (2002) specifies that when either an oral or written report of alleged abuse or neglect is received, the Department of Human Services is obligated to conduct a thorough investigation. The investigation may include inquiry into the child's home environment, emotional and mental health, the nature and extent of injuries, a detailed description of the abuse and an assessment of the child's physical safety.
